Subject: RE:Drug lab printers

Julie, We have had several instances where the printers on the GC's have crashed in the middle of analytical runs, negating the analysis. Mike from computer services has been up several times to replace parts, but the printers break down or jam soon after. We have three that are ten years old. He recommended some new replacements. Is there any funding available for the replacement of printers for the GC's? CBS

House and Senate conferees have struck a deal on the overall funding amount of the stimulus bill of $789.5 billion. The deal does not include any prevention and wellness funding. Please find attached a summary of the health related provisions. The House and Senate are still aiming to have the bill on the President's desk by Monday.
